It is a legal requirement to change the address on your vehicle log book (V5C) and your driving licence when you move house.

Change the address on your driving licence

Change the address on either:

- your full driving licence
- your provisional driving licence

It does not cost anything to change your address with DVLA.

You can still drive while you're waiting for your new licence.

You can be fined up to £1,000 if you do not tell DVLA when your address changes.

Before you start

You need:

- your driving licence
- to be a resident of Great Britain
- to give the addresses you've lived at in the last 3 years
- to not be banned from driving

Provide your driving licence number, National Insurance number and passport number.

To change the address, go to the website using the link below or scan the QR code

Change your address on your vehicle log book (V5C)

You must update your vehicle log book (V5C) if you change your address. It's usually free to update it.

You can be fined up to £1,000 if you do not tell DVLA when your address changes.

Change your address online

Use this service to change the address in your log book to a new UK address.

This service is available from 7am to 8pm.

To use this service, you must be the vehicle's 'registered keeper'.

Before you start

You need:

- the registration number of your vehicle
- your log book reference number
- a UK address
- to check if your vehicle needs taxing in the next 4 weeks

If your vehicle needs taxing in the next 4 weeks you'll need to tax your vehicle online using your current V5C before changing your address.

To change the address go to the website using the link below or scan the QR code
